AACR Team Science Award

Deadline	September 6, 2013, 4:00 p.m. US Eastern Time
Description	This Award has been established to acknowledge and catalyze the growing importance of interdisciplinary teams to the understanding of cancer and/or the translation of research discoveries into clinical cancer applications. The AACR Team Science Award will recognize an outstanding interdisciplinary research team for its innovative and meritorious science that has advanced or likely will advance our fundamental knowledge of cancer or a team that has applied existing knowledge to advance the detection, diagnosis, prevention, or treatment of cancer.
Amount	The team selected to receive the 8th Annual AACR Team Science Award will collectively be awarded a prize of $50,000 and be recognized during the AACR Annual Meeting 2014 in San Diego, CA, USA (April 5-9, 2014). The representative institutions will be cited at the AACR Annual Meeting for their leadership role in fostering team science.
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Team members may be working within the same institution or at several institutions; however, if researchers are in the same institution, they must have clearly separate funding and research space. • The research to be recognized should reflect work towards a specific scientific goal that otherwise would not be realized by any single component of the team. • Candidacy is open to all cancer researchers who are affiliated with any institution involved in cancer research, cancer medicine, or cancer-related biomedical science anywhere in the world. Such institutions include those in academia, industry, or government. • Teams comprising academic and industry researchers will be accepted.

Cancer Research Institute. - Postdoctoral Fellowship Application Guidelines

Deadline	The application deadlines are April 1 and October 1
Description	CLIP Grants provide funding for qualified scientists who are working to explore clinically relevant questions aimed at improving the effectiveness of cancer immunotherapies . The grant will support basic, pre-clinical, and translational research , which will provide information that can be directly applied to optimizing cancer immunotherapy in the clinic .
Amount	The fellowship provides a stipend of $50,000 for the first year, $53,000 for the second year, and $57,000 for the third year . In addition, an allowance of $1,500 per year is allotted to the host institution for use at the sponsor's discretion to help pay for the fellow's research supplies, travel to scientific meetings, and/or health insurance.
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Applicants must be working in areas directly related to cancer immunology. An eligible project must fall into the broad field of immunology and must show relevance to solving the cancer problem. Proposals that do not encompass both these areas will not be considered. • Applicants must have a doctoral degree by the date of award activation and must conduct their proposed research under a sponsor who holds a formal appointment at the host institution. • Applicants with 5 or more years of relevant postdoctoral experience are not eligible, with the exception of M.D. applicants, who should not include years of residency in this calculation. • Only in exceptional circumstances will applicants who have already spent 3 or more years in a sponsor's laboratory by the start date of fellowship be considered for a fellowship award. • The fellowship can be performed in the United States or abroad, but must take place at a non-profit institution. There are no citizenship restrictions. • Only one fellow per sponsor may apply per application round, and faculty sponsors may not have more than three CRI-supported fellows at any time.

MRA-HIDARY FOUNDATION TEAM SCIENCE AWARD FOR ACRAL MELANOMA GENOMICS.

Deadline	July 31, 2013: Full proposals due N.B. This call for proposals is the primary mechanism for MRA to fund acral genomics in the 2013-2014 cycle. MRA plans to announce its Request for Proposals (RFP) for other funding opportunities in late August. Investigators will be permitted to apply to this and the MRA August RFP as long as the projects are distinct and non - overlapping.
Description	The Melanoma Research Alliance (MRA) is proud to partner with the Hidary Foundation to offer a Team Science Award to comprehensively characterize acral melanoma patient samples via state-of-the-art genomic technologies and other analytical approaches in the context of cutting edge biology for new points of therapeutic intervention.
Funding	Multidisciplinary teams of two or more Principal Investigators (PIs) will receive up to $750,000 USD total over 2 years.
Eligibility	Principal Investigators (PIs) must hold a faculty appointment at an academic research institution within or outside the United States at the level of Assistant Professor (or equivalent) or above and have an established record of scientific productivity. Investigators need not be specifically trained in melanoma research; however, they should be working in an environment capable of conducting high quality, high impact melanoma research. An investigator may be a key researcher (PI, co-investigator, or other key role) on two proposals; however, an investigator may only serve as a PI on one proposal in response to this Call for Proposals. EACR-AICR Travel Fellowship

Deadline	There are three deadlines each year for the submission of applications: 31 March, 31 July and 30 November .
Description	The EACR (European Association for Cancer Research) Travel Fellowship scheme, supported by AICR (Association for International Cancer Research) , typically provides awards of up to €2500 (or €4000 match-funded) to fund collaborative or educational trips to centres of excellence around the world and attendance at training courses and workshops. The scheme is designed to assist postgraduate students and early-career researchers with less than 10 years post-doctoral experience.
Funding	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The value of each award is typically up to 2,500 Euros - exceptions will be considered where a strong case can be made. Longer-Stay Awards: Where a longer fellowship is desirable, perhaps comprising two periods of research collaboration, EACR will provide 50% match funding up to 4,000 Euros. Applicants must clearly indicate the source of match funding on such applications as EACR will wish to make contact with the co-funders.
Eligibility	The scheme is open to those who have been Student or Active members of the Association for at least 12 months prior to the application and all applicants must be sponsored by two members of the EACR.

EMBO Courses & Workshops

EMBO (European Molecular Biology Organization) offers the largest number of life science events in Europe. EMBO Courses & Workshops funds approximately 80 events attracting more than 8,000 participants every year.

Funding is available to organize conferences, EMBO | EMBL symposia, ESF | EMBO symposia, workshops, EMBO | FEBS lecture courses, Global Exchange lecture courses and practical courses, as well as for keynote lectures.

Travel grants support the attendance of participants from countries with less-developed scientific infrastructures.

EMBO assists the organizer with the design of a poster, set-up of a website and registration system, and with promotion of the event.

COST (European Cooperation in Science and Technology)

Deadline	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> For submissions in one of the nine COST Domains: 27 September 2013. Full proposals will be invited by 22 November 2013 for submission by 24 January 2014. For Trans-Domain Proposal (TDP) submissions there is first a proposal registration deadline on 27 September 2013, followed by a proposal submission deadline on 8 November 2013.
Description	COST is one of the longest-running European instruments supporting cooperation among scientists and researchers across Europe. COST is also the first and widest European intergovernmental network for coordination of nationally funded research activities. COST is organised in nine broad Domains (including Biomedicine and Molecular Biosciences; Chemistry and Molecular Sciences, Technologies and Physics and Nanosciences, etc). Applicants are invited to locate their topic within one domain. However, inter-disciplinary proposals not fitting readily into a single domain are particularly welcome and will be assessed separately.
Funding	The support will cover the costs of networking activities such as meetings (e.g. travel, subsistence, local organiser support), conferences, workshops, short-term scientific exchanges, training schools, publications and dissemination activities. COST does not fund the research itself. Financial support for an action of 19 participating countries is in the range of EUR 130 000 p.a., normally for four years, subject to available budget.
Eligibility	The Proposer must be affiliated to a legal entity based in a COST Member Country or Cooperating State. The network must be composed by researchers affiliated to legal entities from at least five different COST Member Countries/Cooperating State.
